Summary

The standard appears to be inconsistent on timespec structure versus tm structure with respect to normative requirements.

Both have:

The semantics of the members and their normal ranges are expressed in the comments. But, for timespec, it appears as a footnote, while for tm, it appears in the body of the standard.

Suggested Technical Corrigendum

Move that sentence from footnote 317 in 7.21.1#4 to be in paragraph 4
